Welearn on Monday last a skirmish took place near Hawk's Nest, seven miles above Gauley. About three o'clock on that day our pickets were fired upon across the river, but without any damage. Parts of the Ninth and Twenty-eighth Regiments, under command of Colonel McCook, immediately repaired to the spot, which was at Miller's Ferry. A body of rebel troops appeared on the edge of a thick woods across the river. Our troops opened fire on them, which was Our troops opened fire on them, which was continued for four hours, resulting in no se-rious damage to them. The rebels succeeded in killing one and wounding two of the Twenty-eighth Regiment. The next day they appeared, when Colonel McCook ordered a rified six-pounder to be brought to bear, and a few rounds, well directed, had the effect to drive them away, carrying with them a number of killed and wounded. They have not since shown themselves.

LAW REPORT.

SUPERIOR COURT. SIX THOUSAND DOLLARS CLAIMED FOR IN-SIX THOUSAND DOLLARS CLAIMED FOR IN-JURIES RESULTING FROM DOG BITES.—George Kinsey vs. Amos Moore. On trial before Judge Coffin. The plaintiff, a lad thirteen years of age, sues through his next friend, his father, to recover damages for being bitten by the defendant's dog in July, 1860. The boy was on the bank of the Miami Canal, fishing, on the morning of the lith of July, and seeing a boat coming along, he stepped back toward the fence of defendant's barnyard, when a bull-dog put his head through, as he states, and bit him in several places on the leg.

The physician who attended the boy states that there were eight or ten wounds, several of them of a serious character; and from their severity, the fact that they were dog bites, and inflicted in very hot weather, induced painful apprehensions as to the consequences. The amount of damages claimed in the peti-tion is $6,000.

On the part of defense all carelessness is denied, as the dog was kept inside the fence.

HAMILTON COUNTY DISTRICT COURT. Frank Jones and Robert Kerr were sworn in as Deputy Sheriffs. PROBATE COURT. Two volunteers in the army, Richard Har-grave and Alfred Stephens, were discharged on habeas corpus, the evidence showing that they were minors.

AMUSEMENTS.

MAGGIE MITCHELL,-This charming com Maggie Mirchell.—This charming comedienne was last night again greeted with an audience occupying every available seat in the house. The public has been without a taste of drama or comedy so long, and Maggie's universal favoritism in our city, we think she ought to favor us with a longer stay. To night has been set apart for a benefit night, and Maggie will appear in Margot, the Foultry Dealer, The Four Staters and as Katherine, in the amusing farce of A Husband at Sight. The entertainment is a good one, and will no doubt fill the house. good one, and will no doubt fill the house.

PROFESSOR ANDERSON,-This distinguished on Monday night. As this is his first ap-pearance here for nearly nine years, and as he performs his feats of wonder without the usual display and aid of apparatus, we think be will be well received. Professor Anderson stands high in his routine of magic art. and remains only to be seen to be appreciated.

BOARD OF CITY IMPROVEMENTS,-The Board met this morning at the usual hour, Mayor Hatch in the Chair.

The Clerk read a communication from property bolders in Gest street, between Freeman and Carr, in reference to a stagpant pond in the neighborhood, on a lot be longing to the Miami University, at Oxford,

On motion of Mr. Horton, the Clerk was directed to notify Wm. B. Moores and Philip Hinkle, trustees of the above property, to have the pond filled up, or the nuisance therwise abated.

Mr. Horton offered the following:

"Resolved: That the Clerk be directed to send a resolution to the City Council, authorizing the Commissioners of the Western District to have the sewer running through Second-street, blocked off at Elm and Plumstreets, at an expense not to exceed $60."

On motion the resolution was adopted, Mr. Kiersted voting in the negative. The Board then adjourned.

Another Military Abrest .- C. W. Lang, of Lexington, Kentucky, was arrested in the streets last evening, by one of the soldiers in the Barracks, for hurrahing for Jeff Davis. He states that he was slightly intoxicated at the time, and offers that as his excuse. One of the men from a gun boat is also consigned to temporary quarters in the City Barracks, for taking "French leave" of the boat. He states that it was his intention to return, and only ran away because the commanding offi-cers would not allow him to visit his friends.

Rownysm .- Some individuals, mostly in the gallery of Wood's Theater, played the ruffian last night, by ejaculations, in particular dur-ing the performance of one of the actresses. Such shameless conduct should be checked forthwith, and we would suggest that the proprietor procure the services of a police officer to arrest the rowdies, and it is no presumption to say that we know the Court will make examples of any who may be found guilty.

A CONTEMPT-IBLE CASE .- A writ is in the hands of the United States Marshal, to be served upon Colonel A. E. Jones, of the City Barracks, for contempt of Court, alleged to have been committed in the Hallam habeas corpus case. We are at a loss to know the grounds upon which the rule was issued, as the Colonel that day expressed his unquali fied respect for the legitimate orders of that august tribunal.

COUNTY MATTERS.-The Board of County Commissioners this morning passed bills to the amount of $3 10. Geo. Kain was discharged from the County fail, he being unable to pay fine and costs.

ATTENDING HIS OWN FUNERAL .- A gentleman belonging to the Thirteenth Regiment, while coming to this city, traveled as far as while coming to this city, traveled as far as New York with Captain J. E. Boyle, of the Tammany Regiment. The Captain had in his pocket a telegrap'tic dispatch from his mother to the Msjor of the regiment, requesting him to send her the remains of her son, without regard to expense. All the preparations had been made to properly receive the corpse at the home of the distressed mother, who supposed that she should never again see the Captain alive. Of course there was a veritable surprise party when he arrived at veritable surprise party when he arrived at his mother's residence and witnessed the grave arrangements in progress. The joy of the good woman may be imagined.—Beston

Christian Missionary Society. Yesterday morning, just before adjournment, Dr. J. P. Robinson disturbed the previously existing equanimity of the American Christian Missionary Society, by introducing, for consideration in the afternoon, the following apparently moderate and harmless resolution:

and harmless resolution:
"Resolved: That we deeply sympathize with the loyal and patriotic in our country, in the present efforts to sustain the Government of the United States. And we feel it our duty as Christians to ask our brethren every-where to do all in their power to sus-tain the proper and constitutional authorities of the Union."

During the intermission the resolution given above worked as effectually as the "leaven which the woman took and tied in three measures of meal."

In the latter case, however, "the whole was leavened;" whereas, in the case of the was feavened; whereas, in the case of the Society, the result upon reassembling in the afternoon was found, owing to the diverse and discordant nature of the elements, to be a commotion more resembling the couldron of the witches of Macbeth :

"Double, double, toil and trouble; Fire, burn; and, caulsron, bubble. Elder D. S. Burnett raised the point of order that the resolution was not german to the objects of the meeting. The point was overruled by the Chair.

Elder John Smith made an appeal from this decision, which was seconded by R. M. Bishop. The question then came up, "Shall the decision of the Chair stand as the decision of the Society?"

The Chair explained that to vote aye on the question would bring the resolution be-fore the meeting for discussion, while to vote fore the meeting for discussion, while to vote no would shut it out.

A strong debate then followed, in which Elder D. P. Henderson, of Louisville, Ky., led off in a stirring sppeal in favor of the resolution. He contended that the Society had often adopted resolutions as far aside from the legitimate objects of its organization as the one now presented. He exhorted them by all the bonds of Christian affection to express their sympathy with the soldiers to express their sympathy with the soldiers that had gone to Kentucky to defend their homes and their lives.

The discussion on the same side was maintained by Elders Goodwin, Robinson, Shep-ard, Jamison and others, in the course of which it was stated that the impression had gone abroad that this organization was disloyal; that it was the custom of all religious bodies to pass similar resolutions, and that it was not improper for this one to place itself on the record, which would be done at any rate, the only difference being the choice of sides.

Elders Rogers, Gano and Franklin, R. M. Bishop, Esq, and others vehemently opposed the consideration of the resolution. An ineffectual effort was made to withdraw it, but two or three members objected, where-upon the appeal was also renewed.

upon the appeal was also renewed.

Calls were made for the question. As the Chairman was about to put it, Mr. John Shackleford, of Maysville, Ky., took the floor, and said that every sentiment, every word of the resolution was his, ["and mine, and mine, and mine," cried a number of the brethren,] but it was not legitimate, and he did not wish to be condemned as disloyal if he voted no upon the proposition ["nor I, nor I," reiterated a number of the brethren]. He did not question the loyalty of any of the brethren, nor did he wish his to be questioned. He knew no North, no South, no East, no West, no America, no Europe, no Africa, no country—he knew Europe, no Africa, no country—he knew only the world, "Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel," said the Savior. The above expresses the substance of the

The only appearance of any thing like personal feeling in the course of the debate was brought on by the remarks of Elder Benja-min Franklin, editor of the Christian Review, in this city, who said, in the course of his opposition, that a venerable brother had been insulted by the remarks made.

This called Dr. Robinson to his feet, who bjected to these charges and denied their The Chair cautioned the speaker to refrain rom personalities, and after being checked wice, Elder Franklin succeeded in finishing nis remarks. The question was then put and lost. So the resolution was ruled out.

TEN MINUTES' ADJOURNMENT - "CITIERNS" MESTING. A resolution was immediately passed to adjourn the Society meeting and organize a "Citizens' meeting," or a "Political meeting," as it was characterized by a number of voices.

Rev. D. S. Burnett was called to the Chair. The identical resolution above given was then read.

Mr. Garfield arose, and in a manner bitterly sarcastic and ironical, said he was glad a way had been discovered in this meeting by which we could throw off the bonds of a by which we could throw off the bonds of a Christian organization, resolve ourselves into a "political" meeting, in which men could speak their sentiments; where they could speak as men, and not as Christians; where they could have the liberty of conscience to exhibit some sympathy for their struggling countrymen. For himself, he blessed God we had a country we could live and die for.

and die for. After the adoption of the resolution in the adjourned meeting, the society reformed, and after the transaction of some unimportant business, adjourned until evening. During the evening session a few votes of thanks were passed, none of them, however, so totally at variance with the objects of the organization as the "political" resolution which had been the apple of discord in the afternoon session. The society then adjourned sine die. The Shoe and Leather Exporter publishes statistics to show that the Southern States are not as badly off for shoes as has been rep resented. It shows that during the past three quarters of the present year a sufficient number of brogans went South to supply an army of four bundred thousand men for months, and allows three pairs to each man. FLAX-COTTON CALICO.-The Providence Journal, speaking of prints made in that neighborhood from a combination of flax and cotton, in the proportion of twenty-five per cent. of the latter material to seventy-rive of the former, says that "they show to decided advantage in texture, color and gen-eral appearance by the side of the cloth made entirely of cotton. A fool named George Miller, resident near Reading, Penn., chopped off his hand last week because he supposed it had offended in some way, and that in such case he must follow the injunction of the New Testament literally. THE DOMESTIC TYRANT .- It is to me thoroughly disgusting sight to see, as we sometimes do, the wife and children of a family kept in constant terror of the selfish bashaw at the head of the house, and ever on the watch to yield in every petty manner to his whims and fancies. Sometimes, where he is a hard-wrought and anxious man, whose bard work earns his children's bread, and whose life is the sole stay, it is needful that he should be deferred to in many things, lest the over-tasked brain and over-tasked nervous system should break down or grow unequal to their task. But I am not thinking of such cases. I mean cases in which the head of the family is a great, fat, bullying, selfish scoundrel; who devours sullenly the choicest dishes at dinner, and walks into all the fruit or dessert, while his wife looks on in silence, and the awe-stricken children dare not hint that they would like a little of what the brutal hound is devouring. I mean cases in which the contemptible dog is well dressed, while his wife's and children's attire is thin and bare; in which he liberally tosses about his money in the billiard-room, and goes off in autumn for a tour of the conti-nent by himself, leaving them to the joyless routine of their unvaried life. It is sad to see the sudden hush that falls upon the lit-tle things when be enters the house; how their sports are cut short, and they try to steal away from the room. Would that I were the Emperor of Russia, and such a man my subject! Should not be taste the knout? should not I make him howl? That would be his suitable punishment; for he will never feel what worthier mortals would regard as the heavier penalty by far, the utter absence of confidence or real affection between him and his children when they grow up. He will not mind that there never was a day when the toddling creatures set up a shout of delight at his entrance, and rushed at him and scaled him, and searched in his pockets, and pulfed him about; nor that day will never come when, growing into men and women, they will come to him for sympathy and guidance in their little trials and per-plexities. Oh! woful to think that there are rents, held in general estimation, too, to whem their children would no more think of going for kindly sympathy than they would think of going to Nova Zembla for warmth.—Country Parson. JOHN M. first time The origin of Mr. Vandenhoff's family is Dutch. His first ancestor, on the Anglican records, came over from Holland and landed in England on that celebrated date, November 5, 1688. The ancestral Vandenhoff was the first who leaped ashore at Torbay, and was allowed by the Prince of Orange to in-sert in his armorial bearings "En avant"— meaning, in colloquial English, "the head

John M. Vandenhoff, the celebrated actor, who descended from this "head man," was born in one of the counties of England, and educated at Stonyhurst College, Lancashire. His original destination was the church. At college, however, his success in preparing private theatricals made him turn to the stage. After his graduation he tried for a while the slavish pursuit of classical teaching in a South of England academy. At length the long-fermenting stage-spirit grew too strong for him, and in the little provincial theater of Salisbury, on the 11th of May, 1808, he made his first histrionic effort in the character of "Osmond," in Monk Lewis's play of The Castle Specter. He succeeded in this role, but it was not until the time which we have mentioned that, after much study, he adopted the theatrical profession, nomi-nally, and absolutely at Covent Garden. After the istter period he played with the "Hamlet," "Othello," "Lear," "Shylock," "Brutus," "Iago," "Cato," "Coriolanus," "Virginius." "Master Walter" (in Knowlos's Hunchback) and several others. Some interesting reminiscences of Mr. Vandenhoff were recently given in his son's work, entitled The Actor's Note Book, published by the Appletons in this city.—New York Evening

COLONEL P. St. G. COOKE.—This distinguished Colonel of United States dragoons, who reached here, from Utah, on Saturday evening last, it is understood will soon be assigned to an important position in the field. One of the few faithful officers from the South in the present crisis, his general reputation is that of being one of the most accomplished, gallant and fefficient soldiers of the regular service. With a son and two sons-in law holding important commands in the oligarchy's service, he continues to cling to the Stars and Stripes, and to the true path of soldierly honor, and should be cherished accordingly by the Government. A native of the particular region of Virginia wherein Major General McClellan's operations are to Major General McClellan's operations are to come off, his name in connection with the Union cause—as the commander of a column of the Union army there—would prove a tower of strength to the cause itself. We know no other officer of the present regular service so largely connected there, so well known personally there, or so universaly favorably regarded there.—Washington Star.

NEW YORK, October 24.—The Richmond Examiner of the 17th contains the following telegraphic news:
Macon, Ga., October 16 - A Convention

this morning passed resolutions recommend-ing Congress to suspend the collection of import duties and throw open our ports for free trade to all nations who maintain peace with us.

Resolutions were adopted relative to the sequestration act, recommending the payment of debts sequestered be not required during the war; that claims for indemnity and indebtedness due at the North be allowed as a set-off. A committee, consisting of delegates from Charleston, Savannah and Mobile, was apinted to examine a plan for marine steam battering-rams." AUGUSTA, GA., October 16.—Dates from Pensacola have been received. Now that it seems to be a settled question that General Fremont is to be superseded. speculation is naturally rife as to his successor. General Hunter and General Woo have been named, but it is more possible that Major-General Halleck, who is now way bere from San Francisco, will be orlered to that department. [Special Dispatch to the New York Tribune.]

An impression is being created that Col. Baker exceeded his instructions, and did not retreat as ordered, when he found the enemy overwhelming strength. Captain Young, f his regiment, says there was no possible retreat, save by awimming the Potomac. The only flat by which they got over had been sunk.

The disaster is attributable to the want of transportation. The order given by General Stone to Colonel Baker was picked up with his hat, out of which it had fallen, covered with blood and brains. It is in the city. The horses and mules of the army around Washington are on short allowence. It is not possible for the railroad to keep the Forage Department supplied. The construction of a railroad from here to Nottingham, on the Pawtuxent-twenty miles-of rails and sills, borrowed from some unused road would lay the track speedily.

THE COTTON TREE -The South American cotton tree which Mr. Kendall of Maryland is calling public attention to, has been do-mesticated on his own farm, and he diclares that it withstands, without injury, the severest winters. It may be propagated from seed, but more readily from outtings simply thrust into the ground, and it may be planted out as an apple, peach or pear orchard, in a field cropped with any of the cereals, until, having reached its full growth, the tree should be allowed to occupy the land exclusively. It bears cutting, also, as kindly as any known tree, and in field culture may be kept so pruped that its produce shall be within reach of the hand. The crop in South America has reached two thousand pounds to the acre, whereas the annual cotton plant of the Southern States yields but five hundred pounds to the same area.
